Press Release – Aerospace and Marine Engineering

Monday, 20th June 2005

Following recent successes with a small number of Aerospace and Maritime projects, Starjammer Engineering is keen to promote these services to its existing and future customers.

Our experience in robotics and telepresence applications can help your projects – for more details on our consultancy services and the projects that we are involved in and undertake, get in touch.

We will be happy to supply estimates, costings and the resumés of our staff that are qualified and experienced in these fields.
